DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15, 35-36, 39-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hwang et al in view of Yu-Hwa Lo (Long Wavelength Vertical cavity Surface Emitting Lasers).

Regarding claims 1 and 35, Hwang discloses on figure 2 substantially all the structure set forth in the claimed invention except the interfacial bonding layer solid at approximately 100C and in liquid form at a bonding layer melting point lower than the melting points of the base substrate and the thin film adaptive crystalline layer. However, Yu-Hwa Lo discloses on figure 1 the interfacial bonding layer solid at approximately 100C and in liquid form at a bonding layer melting point lower than the melting points of the base substrate and the thin film adaptive crystalline layer. In view of such teaching, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Hwang by having the interfacial bonding layer solid at approximately 100C and in liquid form at a bonding layer melting point lower than the melting points of the base substrate and the thin film adaptive crystalline layer for the purpose of effectively bonding the substrate to the thin film layer.

Regarding claims 2-15, 36, 39-49, Hwang and Yu-Hwa Lo together disclose all the structures set forth in the claimed invention.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-15, 35-36, 39-45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
